Dear Mrs. Manley,

I recieved your letter today. And I am answering it right back because all of the previous letters and telegrams that you sent James came to my address. James does not live at my house and hasn't for over four months, but I personally saw to his receiving every single one that the post men delivered. I am glad that you wrote me concerning the mail because he might have told you after he arrived in Newark that he didn't receive the letters.

In any case this matter arises again I have proof that he did receive the letters and on the same date they were delivered.

I imagine he is planning on joining the club by his keeping the ticket but his reason for delay or not notifying ^{you} that he has received his ticket and the money order I really can't say. I hope I have given you some information.

Yours very truly,
Mary Hill
